INFORMATION CONCERNING THE TURNBACK COMPONENT OF THE ADMINISTRATION'S FEDERALISM INITIATIVE

Prepared by the Staffs of the Human Resources and Community Development Division and the Budget Analysis Division

Congressional Budget Office

Pursuant to the Request of
Senator Robert C. Byrd

T93.42

As part of its recent federalism initiative, the Administration has proposed to transfer more than 40 federal grant programs to the states, beginning in fiscal year 1984, and to set up a temporary trust fund with revenues from certain excise, gasoline, and windfall profits taxes from which the states could draw to finance the programs slated for turnback. Between 1988 and 1991, the trust fund and the federal taxes that financed it would be gradually phased out. During and after that period, states could impose their own taxes to continue funding the programs, or they could eliminate them.

The Congressional Budget Office (CBO) has been asked to provide information on a state-by-state basis concerning the current and projected funding for each of the programs proposed for turnback. The attached tables show obligations by state for fiscal years 1979, 1980, and 1981, as well as current policy projections of budget authority through 1991 on a nationwide basis. Projections by state are not possible, for at least two reasons. First, some of the turnback programs are discretionary grants, and the distribution of these may vary substantially and unpredictably from year to year. Second, the distribution of those grants allocated by formula would also be expected to vary from year to year as the data elements in the allocation formulas are updated.

The projections that are provided describe the appropriations that would be required for fiscal years 1983-1991 to keep pace with assumed cost increases, except where funding is already capped by legislation. These projections will probably differ from those provided by the Administration, for several reasons. First, the Administration may project program costs based on its 1983 budget proposals, which include proposed cuts from 1982 levels for some of these programs. Second, Administration estimates may not include the same adjustments for inflation; those presented here are adjusted consistent with CBO's January 1982 economic assumptions. Finally, the Administration's treatment of federal administrative expenses may differ—the CBO estimates attempt to eliminate those costs from the projections.

There are 5 tables attached. Table 1 lists the 45 programs currently proposed for turnback, as designated by the Office of Management and Budget. Table 2 briefly describes each program, including the grant distribution mechanism, the level of government assisted, the nature of assistance provided, and estimates of the number and type of beneficiaries. Table 3 gives 1982 funding levels and CBO's baseline projections of budget authority for each program from 1983 through 1991. Table 4 presents data compiled by the Office of Management and Budget, showing obligations on a state-by-state basis for each program for fiscal years 1979, 1980, and 1981. Table 5 uses the same data as in Table 4 to show program-by-program obligations for each state for 1979, 1980, and 1981.

Among the summary findings:

- Thirty-nine of the programs proposed for turnback, with a total funding of $34.7 billion in 1982, are distributed in whole or in part through formulas. The remaining six programs, with a total funding of $1.1 billion in 1982, are distributed entirely on a discretionary basis (see Table 2).

- At least 17 of the programs proposed for turnback are highly targeted on low-income persons (see Table 2). In 1982, these programs made up about 30 percent of total funding for the turnback programs (see Table 3).

- Applying CBO economic assumptions, if current service levels were maintained--except where capped by legislation—federal funding for the turnback programs would grow from $35.8 billion in 1982 to $41.4 billion by 1984 (see Table 3). The Administration's projected funding for these programs, however, is $30.2 billion in 1984.

- Projected current-policy funding under the turnback programs would reach $62.5 billion by 1991—75 percent greater than the 1982 funding total and more than twice the Administration's 1984 funding baseline level.

TABLE 2. DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAMS PROPOSED FOR TURNBACK

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Education and Training
Rehabilitation Services	Formula, based on income and population.	States.	Provision of vocational rehabilitation services.	About 1.4 million mentally or physically handicapped persons. Primarily adults. About 75 percent have family incomes below poverty.
Vocational and Adult Education	Formula, based largely on population.	States, who pass most of the funds on to local education agencies.	Support for instruction at the local level.	About 18 million persons, mostly youths and young adults. About 40 percent of funds are targeted on the economically or educationally disadvantaged.
State Block Grant (ECIA Ch.2)	Formula, based on school-age population.	States, with 80 percent minimum pass-through to local education agencies.	Support for diverse educational activities.	Not known.
Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA)	Formula, based on unemployment and low-income population.	Prime sponsors, including both state and local governments.	Provision of employment and training activities.	About 3 million persons, primarily economically disadvantaged.
Work Incentive Program (WIN)	Formula, based on the number of persons registering for WIN.	States, who distribute funds to local Employment Service and welfare agencies.	Provision of employment, training, and related services.	About 2 million AFDC recipients, about 75 percent women.

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Income Assistance
Home Energy Assistance	Formula, based on low-income population and average heating expenditures.	States, with some pass-through to local agencies.	Direct cash payments to or on behalf of low-income households.	About 10 million low-income households.
Emergency Assistance[a]	State expenditures for emergency assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program are matched. Matching formula is based on state per capita income.	States, with pass-through to local welfare agencies.	Cash payments to low-income households.	Low-income households suffering emergencies of various kinds. Currently, only 23 states provide emergency assistance under AFDC.
Social, Health, and Nutrition Services
Child Nutrition	Formula, based on program participation.	Mostly states, who pass most of the benefits through to local agencies.	Cash and in-kind subsidies, principally for meals in schools and day care facilities.	About 26 million children per day. All children in participating institutions receive some subsidy, but the amount of the subsidy varies inversely with family income.
Child Welfare	Formula, based on population under 21 and per-capita income.	State public welfare agencies.	Support for child welfare services.	Not known.
Adoption Assistance	Entitlement.	States.	Subsidy of adoption expenses.	Adoptive parents of children eligible for AFDC or SSI benefits. Number not known.

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Foster Care	Entitlement.	States.	Funding for services and maintenance payments.	About 115,000 (monthly) children in foster care homes who are eligible for AFDC benefits.
Runaway Youth	Formula grants to regions based on population aged 10 to 17, and on the proportion of the 50 largest cities located within the region. Within regions, competitive grants to public and private nonprofit organizations.	Local communities, not necessarily governments.	Funding for facilities for runaways.	About 42,000 runaway youth.
Child Abuse	Formula grants to states based on population under 18. Competitive grants to public and private nonprofit organizations.	States, public agencies at various levels, and private nonprofit organizations.	Funding for services, research, and information dissemination.	Children who are abused or at risk. Number not known.
Social Services Block Grant	Appropriated entitlement, capped by formula based on population.	States.	Funding for diverse social services.	Diverse groups, who are generally dependent due to age (both children and elderly), disability, or other reasons. Number not known.
Legal Services Corporation	Formula based on poverty population.	Local nonprofit organizations set up to serve every county in the country.	Provision of free civil legal services.	About 1.5 million low-income persons.

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Community Services Block Grant	Formula, based on pre-Reconciliation distribution of funds under pre-existing programs.	States, with 90 percent minimum pass-through to political subdivisions beginning in 1983.	Funding for diverse economic development and service activities.	Low-income persons. Number not known.
Prevention Block Grant	Formula, based on pre-Reconciliation distribution of funds under pre-existing programs.	States, with some pass-through to localities.	Funding for diverse preventive health services, both personal and environmental.	Diffuse benefits to individuals within the community.
Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Block Grant	Formula, based on pre-Reconciliation distribution of funds under pre-existing programs.	States.	Funding for treatment facilities.	About 4 million persons with mental health or substance abuse problems.
Primary Care Block Grant	In 1982, allocation based on competitive applications. Resulting relative distribution of funds by state will be maintained thereafter.	In 1982, funds are distributed directly to local public and private nonprofit organizations. Thereafter, funds will go first to states for local distribution.	Funding for community health centers.	Low-income persons in medically underserved areas. About 3 million encounters in 1981, although this number is an overcount of the number of persons served.
Maternal and Child Health Care Block Grant	For 1982-1983, formula distribution based on pre-Reconciliation distribution of funds under preexisting programs. Thereafter, formula based on population of low-income children.	States.	Funding for health services.	High risk mothers, infants, and children, with amount of subsidy varying by family income. Number not known, but in excess of 6 million.

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Primary Care Research and Development	Grants awarded on a discretionary basis.	Public and private nonprofit organizations.	Support for research and demonstration of methods for providing primary health care.	Potentially all current or future health care users. About 40 projects currently funded. Program to be terminated at the end of 1982.
Black Lung Clinics	Formula, based on the number of active and retired miners.	States with an eligible population.	Provision of medical services.	About 80,000 miners with pulmonary ailments, located in 14 states.
Migrant Health Clinics	Awarded competitively.	Public and private nonprofit health centers in areas with seasonal influxes of migrant workers.	Provision of primary health care and environmental health services.	About .6 million persons, largely black or Hispanic.
Family Planning	Formula, based on the number of low-income women and the number of women less than 20.	Sate, local, and private nonprofit health agencies.	Funding for family planning services.	About 4 million low-income women.
Women, Infants, and Children Food Programs (WIC)	Formula, based on indicators of need for services.	States and local agencies.	Provision of supplemental food, either directly or through vouchers.	Low-income women who are pregnant, breast feeding, or postpartem and children to age 5. About 2.3 million people.

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Transportation
Grants-in-Aid for Airports	Two-thirds of funds are distributed by formula, based on inplanements and (for smaller airports) the relative area of the state. The remainder are discretionary grants awarded by the Secretary of Transportation.	Almost all large airports, and some smaller airports.	Funding for planning and construction of capital improvements.	Air travelers and airlines.
Highway Programs:[b] Primary Highway System; Rural & Urban Transportation; Urbanized Area Transportation; Bridges; Construction Safety; Other Highways; State & Community Highway Safety; Highway-Related Safety Grants	Formula, usually based on population and road miles.	States, with pass-through to urban areas only for urban systems programs.	Funding for highway construction and repair. Some of the Urbanized Area Transportation funds are used for mass transit capital grants.	All highway users.
Interstate Transfers - Highways	Based on requests by locals and approval by states and the Federal Highway Administration.	Local governments who want a substitute to the Interstate highway system in their area.	Funding for local road systems which are alternative to the Interstate system.	Certain local highway users. Less than 12 local areas affected currently.
Appalachian Highways	Based on cost of completing the regional highway system.	13 Appalachian states.	Funds for highway construction.	Highway users in the Appalachian states.

Urban Mass Transit	Most operating grants are distributed by formula, based on population and population density. Capital grants are distributed on a discretionary basis, with matching required.	Mostly urbanized areas over 50,000 in population.	Support for local capital and operating costs for mass transit.	Transit users.
Community Development & Facilities
Rural Water & Waste Disposal[c] Grants Loans	Formula, based on rural population and number of poor households.	States, with pass-through to eligible applicants including local governments and nonprofit corporations.	Funding for water and sewer facilities.	Residents of rural and low-income communities.
Community Facility Loans	Formula, based on rural population and number of poor households.	States, with intrastate awards to eligible applicants.	Funding for diverse public facilities.	Underserved rural poor. Number not known.
Community Development Block Grants (CDBG)	About 75 percent of funds distributed on an entitlement basis to cities of 50,000 or more. Remainder distributed to states by formula, with intrastate awards made to small cities.	Cities and urban counties.	Funding for repair or replacement of public works facilities.	Low and moderate income urban residents.

Category/Program	Distribution Mechanism	Level of Government Assisted	Nature of Assistance	Ultimate Beneficiaries (Numbers for 1981 or earlier)
Urban Development action Grants (UDAG)	Awards based on national competition.	Cities and urban counties.	Funding for economic development projects in urban areas.	Urban taxpayers.
Waste Water Treatment Plants	Formula, based on population and needs.	States, which award grants to applicant municipalities.	Funding for construction of sewage treatment facilities.	Municipal residents.
Revenue Sharing and Technical Assistance
OSHA State Grants	Open-ended grant, covering up to 50 percent of operating cost of state programs subject to availability of funds.	States (4 territories) with approved plans. Currently there are 22 states and 2 territories receiving grants.	Financial aid to assist states in administering programs for occupational safety and health.	About 30 million workers in states and territories with approved plans.
General Revenue Sharing	Formula, based on population, income, and tax effort.	Cities and counties.	Funding for general purpose government activities.	Local taxpayers.

a. This is part of the AFDC program, all of which would be turned over to the states as part of the proposed swap.

b. These 8 programs are listed separately in the data compiled by the Office of Management and Budget presented in Tables 4 and 5.

c. These 2 programs are listed separately in the data compiled by the Office of Management and Budget presented in Tables 4 and 5.

a. Excludes Title III and Title IV-B (Job Corps) programs.

b. This does not exist as a separate federal program. Payments are made under the AFDC program, on a matching basis. Expenditures for this program are not included in the total.

c. This program expires at the end of fiscal year 1982.

d. Includes Primary Highway System, Rural and Small Urban Transportation, Urbanized Area Transportation, Bridges, Construction Safety, Other Highways, State and Community Highway Safety, and Highway-Related Safety Grants. Excludes Interstate and 4R Grants.

e. Includes Secretary's discretionary grants estimated at $56.5 million in 1982.

f. Based on Congressional action to date, which does not reflect a pending request for reenactment of reprogramming authority.

TABLE 4. PROGRAM OBLIGATIONS BY STATE: FISCAL YEARS 1979, 1980, AND 1981
(in thousands of dollars)

The following data were compiled by the Office of Management and Budget. They are subject to further refinement and change. Adoption Assistance is not included, because that program was started in 1982. The data for grant programs are net actual obligations. The data for loan programs are new loan obligations. Exceptions to this are:

Child Nutrition - obligations reported exclude bonus commodities obligations;

Foster Care - data are estimates rather than actual obligations;

Legal Services - data are actual expenses rather than obligations;

Community Development Block Grants - data are actual allocations rather than obligations.

Programs are listed alphabetically.

TABLE 5. OBLIGATIONS TO EACH STATE BY PROGRAM: FISCAL YEARS 1979, 1980, AND 1981
(in thousands of dollars)

The following data were compiled by the Office of Management and Budget. They are subject to further refinement and change. Adoption Assistance is not included, because that program was started in 1982. The data for grant programs are net actual obligations. The data for loan programs are new loan obligations. Exceptions to this are:

Child Nutrition - obligations reported exclude bonus commodities obligations;

Foster Care - data are estimates rather than actual obligations;

Legal Services - data are actual expenses rather than obligations;

Community Development Block Grants - data are actual allocations rather than obligations.

Programs are listed alphabetically.
